

NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME

“Not Me But You”

HISTORY

The National Service Scheme was launched in 1969. It aims at the involvement mainly of undergraduate students on a voluntary basis in various activities of social service and national development which while making a contribution to socio-economic progress would also provide opportunities to the students to understand and appreciate the problems of the communities, awaken social consciousness and inculcate in them a sense of dignity of labour. The response to the various programmes organized was tremendous. At the same time, there has been a demand from several quarters that opportunity should be provided to the youth going out of the universities and colleges to engage themselves on a whole-time basis for a specific period in activities of social and national service. Some attempts in this direction have been made in some states during last few years.

OBJECTIVES:

The main objectives of National Service Scheme (NSS) are:

- ☐ understand the community in which they work
- ☐ understand themselves in relation to their community
- ☐ identify the needs and problems of the community and involve them in problem-solving
- ☐ develop among themselves a sense of social and civic responsibility
- ☐ utilize their knowledge in finding practical solutions to individual and community problems
- ☐ develop competence required for group-living and sharing of responsibilities
- ☐ gain skills in mobilizing community participation
- ☐ acquire leadership qualities and democratic attitudes
- ☐ develop capacity to meet emergencies and natural disasters and
- ☐ practice national integration and social harmony

MOTTO:

The Motto of NSS "Not Me But You", reflects the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for self-less service. NSS helps the students develop appreciation to other person's point of view and also show consideration to/other living beings. The philosophy of the NSS is well doctrine in this motto, which underlines/on the belief that the welfare .of an individual is ultimately dependent on the welfare of the society on the whole and therefore, the NSS volunteers shall strive for the well-being of the society.
